Kaiser Permanente to Open Baldwin Hills-Crenshaw Medical Offices in September

The finishing touches are being put on the new Kaiser Permanente Baldwin Hills-Crenshaw Medical Offices, which will bring high-quality primary and specialty care services to an estimated 50,000 Kaiser Permanente members who live and work in the community, starting mid-September.

"We are committed to this community and this new building will take our relationship to a new level," said Georgina Garcia, senior vice president, area manager of Kaiser Permanente West Los Angeles.

Located at the intersection of Marlton Avenue and Santa Rosalia Drive in the Marlton Square complex, the building represents Kaiser Permanente's commitment to building healthy communities. Approximately 60 world class physicians will treat members in technologically advanced exam rooms, equipped with the ability to conduct real time virtual consults with other Kaiser Permanente providers throughout the region.

The building was designed with the community in mind, and will feature a conference room and outdoor event space that will be available to local community groups. The community can also enjoy 2.5 acres of "green" space on the property which includes a contiguous, two-mile walking path.
