

Quality care that's truly convenient

It's easy to get when and where you need it most – from a team that's connected to each other and to you.

On your device: More than half of all interactions between Kaiser Permanente members and their doctors happen virtually – helping members get the care they need while saving time and money.¹

On ours: We're able to start treating stroke patients 2x faster than the national average with the help of in-facility video and remote consultations.^{2,3}

Save time for what you love

With us, it's easy to avoid the drive to the doctor's office, skip the waiting room, and get back to living your life.
